Retelling Scene 1

PETS AT CHRISTMAS
'Thinking of buying pets as Christmas presents? MR. R. HAZLE, (Mayor of Harlow's Zoo) provides some hints.

Maxim and Maria, the two lion cubs, who have taken over our Zoo, are proving a great attraction. Two months old when they came to us from a Devon zoo, they have settled down very well. It will no doubt be a difficult task to find a home for where they will be completely happy, but, as in the case of pandas, we feel confident it will work out well. Visitors are readily convinced that these appealing, floppy, furry critters grow into animals requiring an increasing amount of time, affection to maintain the feeling of security so essential to 'tame wild animals'. Exotic lions are obviously a wise gift for Christmas presents, together with puppies, guinea pig, I don't, hedgehogs, etc. But we in the Zoo think before it is altogether wise to have a new pet in the home at Christ. It is often better to acquire an animal as best but to be
